

Common protest

More than one hundred Wilmington High School students occupied the Wilmington Common briefly Tuesday noon to protest the closing of the Common to students during school hours. A committee of students has been working with school administrators to establish basic rules for use of the Common. The protesting students said they were tired of waiting for the Common to be reopened. The students returned to school grounds after a persuasive talk by Stephen Verrette (arms raised).

Services Sunday, parade Monday

Memorial Day in Wilmington will be a two-day observance this year. On Sunday, May 25, veterans' organizations will attend mass at St. Thomas Church at 9:30 a.m. In the afternoon, starting at 2 p.m., the veterans will hold services at ten parks and buildings dedicated to soldiers who lost their lives in the service.

The Memorial Day parade will be held on Monday morning. The parade will begin at Wilmington Plaza at 9:30 a.m. and proceed to Wildwood Cemetery by way of Main Street and Church Street. A service will be held in the Veteran's Lot at 11:30 a.m.

Busy weekend for Anniversary Committee

People who are not traveling on Memorial Day weekend will find quite a bit of activity in Wilmington.

Saturday will be Senior Citizens' Day on the Wilmington Common. Among the activities taking place will be raffles, arts and crafts, and food concessions.

A flea market will be held on the Common on Sunday and Monday. Operated by the 250th Anniversary Committee, the flea market will be open from 1 to 7 p.m. on Sunday and from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Monday.

Sign-up for spaces in the flea market will be held at the An-iversary Headquarters, the former town hall annex, Thursday from 6 to 9, Friday from 3 to 7 and all day Saturday. The 250th Anniversary Committee will also be selling commemorative license plates, t-shirts, shorts, hats, and plastic cups, with the logo of the town's 250th Anniversary.

A one-pitch softball tournament will be held all weekend at the Town Park, Friday through Monday. Sign-up will be held at the Town Park evenings through Thursday, May 22, with Jack Cushing or the scorer.

Local Arts Council for Wilmington?

A new state law permits lotteries for the exclusive benefit of the arts, in Massachusetts, conducted by the State Lottery Commission. The minimum ticket price is $5.

Just like other funds, the Arts Lottery fund is to be distributed to the towns and cities, but with all money earmarked for the arts. The distribution will be according to the "Cherry Sheet," the name for the formula used to distribute state funds.

In order to receive Art Lottery funds in Wilmington the selectmen must appoint a local arts council, with at least five members. They must be qualified by a sensitivity to the arts, and have administrative skills. There will be no salary.

The Wilmington Arts Council will help to select the arts activities which the town will want to fund, using the state funds.

Persons interested in serving should submit their names, and their relationship to the arts, to the Wilmington selectmen, by Friday, May 23.

Qualified residents, who are interested in serving should have a demonstrated scholarship in, or creativity in, or distinguished service to the performing arts, the fine arts, and the humanities.

Judge stops Woburn developer

North Woburn developer William D'Annolfo has been barred from further developing the industrial and business complex in North Woburn, until the state's Department of Environmental Quality Engineering (DEQE) has received and approved a comprehensive plan to handle the toxic waste mess. Superior Court Judge John Mitchell so ruled, last Thursday, according to stories in the Woburn Times and the Reading Chronicle.

D'Annolfo's firm owns the large tract of land, part of which was formerly the Merrimack Chemical Company, in which rotting animal hides and carcasses have been found over several years - hides which led to the title of the Woburn Odor, to describe the mess. Since then large deposits of waste minerals, some of which are deemed to be toxic carcinogens, have been found.

The ruling by Judge Mitchell wipes out earlier fears that D'Annolfo would or could proceed with the development of the property, as long as he showed evidence of continued "planning" to abate the toxic waste dangers.

The Town of Reading, in its annual town meeting last week voted the sum of $20,000 to fight the proposed state and federal decrees for cleaning up the toxic waste. Reading is prepared to challenge any "consent" decree on the part of the federal or state government which allows D'Annolfo to "proceed to plan" on how to cope with the chemical wastes such as chromium and arsenic, and the rotting animal hides. Statements were made on the town meeting floor that $20,000 was "only a drop in the bucket" by speakers who were trying to get the town meeting to have "faith in the state and federal agencies."

The Reading town meeting did not buy those arguments. The Conservation Commission chairman, Tom Riley, told the town meeting that the recently negotiated consent decree was "an absolute disaster" for Reading, which "completely ignored" the air pollution problem.

The $20,000 was voted by an overwhelming majority.

As a result of Judge Mitchell's ruling D'Annolfo may not proceed with his planning to contain the toxic wastes, and the Woburn Odor, but without any further by the D'Annolfo firm. No other firm or other real estate development group involved in the land may proceed until the DEQE has approved a master plan for cleaning up the mess.

Anniversary items

Several commemorative items are now available from the Wilmington 250th Anniversary Committee. Committee members Jack Cushing, John Brown and Chairman Joan Maga display two sizes of plastic cups, a license plate, a t-shirt, and shorts. A hat is also available.

W.H.S. senior reception Friday

A senior reception will be held in the Wilmington High School library from noon to 2 p.m. on May 23. The seniors will be honored by the high school faculty and administrators on their last day of regular classes prior to graduation.

The reception provides an opportunity to say goodbye. The seniors will have their yearbooks available for autographs of their friends and favorite teachers.

Senior award signs are posted, humorous and serious, recalling students' particular 'talents' in class. Home-baked goodies and punch are donated by the staff.

It is hoped that the reception will be a fitting farewell for the seniors as they leave W.H.S.

Vandalism repairs

Vandals broke 22 windows at the Glen Road School in Wilmington on Friday night. Workmen George Gates, Al Antinorelli and Jim Haley spent much of the day Monday replacing the windows with plexiglas. Supt. of Buildings Roy McElanahan said that window breakage in Wilmington schools is down from last year at this time.

Walter D. Hall, Jr. is recruiter aide

Fresh from Army basic and advanced training, E-1 Walter D. Hall,

Jr. of Lockwood Road, Wilmington is temporarily assigned to his hometown area for duty as a recruiter aide.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hall, he enlisted in January for guaranteed training in Airborne Infantry.

Walter is working at Tewksbury US Army recruiting station under the supervision of SSG Limpert.

As a recruiter aide, Walter is circulating among his friends and peers talking about his personal Army experiences. This approach is aimed at attracting other qualified young people to consider Army enlistment.

A 1979 graduate of Shawsheen Tech, Walter said he enlisted for the chance to travel, further his education and enhance his on the job training.

He is scheduled to report to his first permanent duty assignment at Ft. Lewis, Washington on June 21.

Campaign Funds

In a recent vote in the Massachusetts House, Rep. Jim Miceli voted in favor of an amendment to the budget which would prohibit officials leaving public office from converting their surplus campaign funds to their personal use.

By this vote, Rep. Miceli agreed that such surplus money would go to the state treasury for use as local aid to cities and towns. The amendment passed by a vote of 70-69.

Proper use of surplus campaign funds has been an issue in the legislature for several years. Bills filed in the House this year were recently put into a "study package" and sent to the Senate, where they now sit. Such study packages have commonly been used in the past to delay action or effectively kill legislation for the remainder of the session.

To become law, the same amendment must now be approved in the Senate when the budget is taken up in that body, and then signed by the Governor.

In putting her group's support behind the prohibition of personal use of campaign money, Common Cause State Chairwoman Joan Austin said, "Campaign fundraising should be conducted strictly for purposes of election to office and not for personal profit. We congratulate the House of Representatives for trying to close this loophole in our campaign finance laws, and we call on the Senate members to do the same."

'Mansion Heirs' at First Baptist Church

On Saturday, June 7 the Wilmington First Baptist Church will present a concert by the "Mansion Heirs." The time of the concert will be 7:30 p.m.

Developed out of a family singing group in their own local church, the Mansion Heirs have now sung in many, many churches and for civic organizations throughout New England, as well as in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Florida. They have been on radio and television, and currently have two albums in circulation.

Their program consists of Southern-style gospel, old favorites and some of the well-loved contemporary gospel songs. They use piano and bass guitar accompaniment.

The group personnel include Tom Perry, singer and bass guitarist; his sister Grace Perry, singer and pianist, their sister, Ruth, and her husband, Paul Lombard, singers. The three Lombard children will participate in the concert and several sing-along choruses will be included in the program.

All are welcome to this 7:30 concert.

Lamkin graduates despite accident

Lamkin

Ten days before his graduation from Merrimack College, William Lamkin was involved in a head-on collision in Andover. He was trapped in his car for 10 minutes after the accident, and was freed from the wreckage by firefighters using the "jaws of life."

He was admitted to the Lawrence General Hospital and placed in the intensive care unit, for treatment of internal injuries.

Lamkin did not miss his college graduation. He was granted a two-hour pass from the hospital on Sunday afternoon, and received his Bachelor of Science degree in civil engineering. Lamkin was guided into the graduation ceremonies in a wheelchair, took a regular seat in the audience and walked up the platform to accept the precious Merrimack College parchment for which he had worked years.

"I'm feeling fine," said Lamkin, "and I hope to be released from the hospital next Wednesday." He plans to fly to San Francisco in July to his new job as a junior civil engineer with the State of California.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lamkin of Ridge Road, Wilmington. Other Wilmington graduates of Merrimack included Karen J.

Kingston, William Kinnear and Nancy J. Sullivan.

Magna Cum Laude graduate, Karen Kingston received her B.A. degree in psychology. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Kingston of 9 Gunderson Rd., North Wilmington.

Kinnear received his Associate degree in human services. He is a resident of 28 Crescent St., Wilmington.

Nancy Sullivan received her B.A. degree in biology. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sullivan of 27 Gunderson Rd., North Wilmington.

Solid State introduces new computer terminal

Solid State Technology is a small company which was formed about 11 years ago in North Wilmington. The firm is best known for its emergency call boxes, which can be seen at the side of interstate highways.

Solid State occupies a plant on Upton Court, near the ice arena. About two years ago, the firm sought to expand, and build a second plant. The town would not allow the additional building. The firm then built a much larger plant in Woburn, where it now has its main office.

SST also manufactures a fire alarm system. An offer to supply the town of Wilmington with a complete system, at cost, was not accepted.

Another product of Solid State is a minicomputer, called the Athena. Sales last year were about $1 million.

Solid State, however, has not yet entered the profit column.

The firm unveiled its newest product this week. Developed at Massachusetts Institute of Technology under a National Science Foundation grant, it is a "soft" computer terminal. Instead of a regular keyboard input for computers, it provides a grid surface of multi-layered plastic for a keyboard surface. Under the plastic is a green glowing display screen, which displays a variety of possible keyboard layouts, including basic typewriter or basic calculator.

The terminal is designed to provide a simple manner of input for computer users who are not especially trained in computer technology.

Solid State bought the rights to the computer terminal, and will market it under the name of "Proteus."

John Biondo, president of Solid State, has defined it as "non-professional, easy access to computers."

The untrained user, he says, can have easy access to large computers which would otherwise be inaccessible. He is optimistic. He feels that the new Proteus terminal will be used by airlines, among others, for the purpose of booking passengers by computer banks, and even assigning seat reservations, without the use of ticket agents.

Biondo, this week announced that the Proteus terminal will be on the market this fall. The terminal prices will range from $3,000 to $15,000, and Biondo feels the sales will exceed $100 million in about four years.

Bloodmobile in Tewksbury May 28

There will be a townwide bloodmobile at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 2068 Main St., Tewksbury, on Wednesday, May 28, from 2:00 to 7:45 p.m. under the direction of John Connolly, K of C Blood Chairman.

Appointments are being taken by Millie Irish and Gladys Johnson at 851-6035. Appointments are asked to be made to insure proper staffing, but walk-ins are always welcome.

TBC Coordinator Jean Russell is asking for a large turnout from all organizations and families to prepare for the Memorial Day weekend. "We realize there will be proms and graduations, but we hope that you will keep in mind the great need for blood at this time of the year. A tragedy could occur in your family or neighborhood, so let's make sure to be prepared. The Tewksbury Blood Committee will be working hard for your insured blood needs. Please take the time to make an extra special effort, one hour of your time, and give the gift of life, your blood, for another who could be desperately waiting. One pint of blood could help up to four people," Jean says.

Anyone from age 17 (with written permission from one parent) to 66 is eligible. You are advised to have a good meal before donation. It is painless.

Anyone wishing to volunteer services for future bloodmobiles is asked to call Mae Pilcher at 851-3835, who will fit you to a worthwhile job. Mae is the only one who is authorized to staff the hall. If you would like to volunteer your services making calls to set up appointments, call Millie or Gladly at 851-6035.

Wilmington High School

On Wednesday, May 28, in the Wilmington High School auditorium, between 2:30 and 4:00 p.m., Dr. James Herzog, psychiatrist from Children's Hospital, will conduct a seminar dealing with the topic, "Children of Divorce."

The need for such a seminar became apparent because of the widespread desire of the school staff and parents to better help children who face this difficult period and its aftermath. The current requests for psychological services for these youngsters had made this a major area of concern. Issues revolving around discipline, neglect, attention-getting behavior, role modeling and academic failure initiated the need for this seminar as a means to provide in-service training for the staff, as well as for parents.

This program will be open to all parents who have children in the Wilmington Public Schools, all school personnel and other interested persons.

If you have any questions, please contact Mrs. Mary Driscoll, principal of the Boutwell School, 658-9062.

As Major Lopez, he has taken up new duties at the general headquarters in Boston.

Mill Road residents have water problems

Mill Road goes off Chestnut Street up to Clap's Mill, an ancient stonework on the Burlington - Wilmington line. The road dates back to at least 1665, when Will Butters was recorded as living there. His home is where the Bruce MacDonald home is today, on Chestnut Street.

Until recently, Mill Road was a narrow dirt road. After extensive negotiations with the town, a builder last year began developing the land along Mill Road.

The Town Crier once wrote extensively on Mill Road, and how it was many years ago, when it was called "The Garden of Eden."

It was, in those days, a path, through the hills. There was ledge, on that path. The hills on each side were (and still are) drumlins - solid rock with a clay cover.

Cut into that clay and a dish is made, a dish that retains water. Digging a cellar means cutting into the clay, and that cellar will likely be flooded every spring, until it is fixed.

Dan Ballou, Jr. is Wilmington's newest selectman. Monday night, in answer to a telephone call, Ballou went to meet someone on Mill Road. Ballou told the Planning Board about it Tuesday evening. There were, he said, "40 people waiting for me. They all had complaints."

It was because of those complaints that Ballou was visiting the Planning Board. There was water running over the street, there was water in some of the front yards, there were stones in the backyards, there was water in some of the cellars, and the sidewalk did not go where it was supposed to go.

Those were some of the complaints. There were others, Ballou said. Then he listened to the Planning Board for a while, as they discussed Mill Road. Mill Road, they told him, was approved by the selectmen, in an Official Map hearing. The date was in April, 1975. Lou Maglio made it a special point, to attend that hearing, he told Ballou.

No sewer, no buildings, says Compugraphic

A year ago last May, after a long search that took in almost all of eastern Massachusetts and all of southern New Hampshire the Compugraphic Corporation of Wilmington purchased 50 acres of land, in North Wilmington. On that land they planned three large buildings. One is currently under construction.

The corporation is now laying plans for changes. If the threatened stopping of the sewer construction goes through, says Bob Murray, of Compugraphic, "this corporation will not proceed with the construction of the planned buildings."

It was on his recommendation that Compugraphic purchased 50 acres of the former Bob Evans farm, and it

The selectmen, Maglio said, had allowed an 18 foot wide street. The Planning Board minimum was 30 feet. They had not insisted on some of the things that the Planning Board would have wanted. Besides, all the Planning Board would have to control in an instance such as this, would be the street. Water in the lots, in the cellars, or any such thing, was not a Planning Board function.

Arnold Blake added to that statement. He had, he said, watched Ballou in the Town Meeting and Ballou had voted against the PRD zoning.

PRD Zoning, Blake said, was the one place where the Planning Board could have a say about grading, and about water, and about many other things. In fact, Blake added, the whole town meeting could have a say in it.

But the Planning Board did not have any powers to correct the problems on Mill Road, Blake told Ballou.

Maglio and Blake had more to say. The developer, Maglio said, had come to the Planning Board and asked for some advice. It was given to him, and as a result, Maglio said, the street is much better than the one that the selectmen approved.

The Planning Board had advised the developer to put in a 26 foot street, and this he did, instead of the 18 foot street. Maglio examined the plans, and said that the sidewalk seemed to conform to the plans that had been made for it.

Those people, Maglio and Blake told Ballou, should talk with the developer. He can fix up a lot of the problems, with a couple of days work, if they just get together and talk things over nicely.

Ballou agreed that this was feasible. He will return to the Planning Board at another time, he said, and he probably would have some of the Mill Road people with him.

Reassessment needed

In the annual town meeting in Wilmington an article asked for the sum of $125,000, to provide for the reassessment of property. No money was appropriated under this article.

There is to be a special town meeting on June 9. The warrant is not ready, but there seems to be no article asking for assessing money. This is worthy of discussion.

The desired norm, by many people, in assessments, is a 100 percent valuation. It was to this schedule that Wilmington adhered for many years. In the 1970s Wilmington drifted away, until its assessments became to be only about 50 percent.

There are other communities which never had gotten to 100 percent assessment of property. Several reasons may be mentioned.

One reason was that the assessors never could catch up with their work. There were just too many parcels, too many items.

Another reason, in some communities, was that the politicians liked to be in a position of doing "favors" in return for favorable consideration at voting time. This is, of course, to be described as a political reason.

A third reason, also to be described as political, at least by some, is that of assessing homes at a lower rate than industry or commerce. There was a deliberate distortion of taxes, in some of the larger communities of Massachusetts, as a result.

Towns with a 100 percent assessment, like Wilmington, found that they were being unfairly treated, in the division of state funds. The communities with assessments in order did not get as much state money as did those with only partial valuations.

A community with a 50 percent valuation, but with the same population, etc., as one with 100 percent valuation would get twice the amount of state funds. This was manifestly unfair, and let to a court case, called the Sudbury Decision.

As a result there was a new law, effective January 1, 1974. All towns and cities, this law said, must have all assessments at 100 percent of valuation. No town or city would get more money from the state, if the valuations were other than 100 percent.

There followed then a lot of protests from the larger cities. Readers may remember it. Boston politicians introduced new laws into the legislative hopper. They sought different percentages or classifications, in valuations, for residential and business properties. There was a tremendous campaign in Massachusetts, and the new law was voted.

The result was that the communities were to assign "percentages" to the various classes of property - viz. residential, commercial, and industrial. This in turn became subject to political pressure. There were differences of opinion, often quite honest differences.

In Wilmington the finance committee thought the assessor should assign the percentages before the valuations were complete. The assessor thinks otherwise. He feels that first the valuations should be brought up to 100 percent, and then a survey would determine the individual percentages, by classification.

This was the reason behind the disagreement in the annual town meeting.

In Wilmington the assessing department had brought all the land values up to date, as of January 1, 1980. The homes, places of business, etc. were not. The assessors had no more money. That was the reason for the request for an additional $125,000, - to hire an outside firm to complete the work.

The money was not voted, in town meeting.

Did Wilmington save money, as a result?

The answer is No. There are attorneys in Massachusetts who are aware of the situation, in those towns which have not brought themselves to a 100 percent valuation. Those attorneys are now making some "killings," by finding in those towns firms who are willing to take the assessment to the appellate tax court.

The fee for the attorney is generally 33 percent of the money. If a firm saves $30,000 the attorney charges about $10,000.

Wilmington's town counsel, in such cases, has usually found it better to settle out of court, rather than to fight the case through the appellate tax court. This he has done on a couple of occasions.

So far the town has "settled" for over $200,000. That's good money for the attorneys.

They have no reason why they should stop. This is good reason why the town should get to 100 percent as soon as possible.

letters to the editor

Dear Larz:

A very sad thing happened to the Glen Road School this weekend. Twenty-one windows were broken, but more than that, an assault was made upon the good works and school spirit of each child and parent of the Glen Road School.

All year long the children and parents have worked for the betterment of their school and their neighborhood and they have been successful. It was a sad day Monday to return to our school to see the damage inflicted to our building. Our spirit is not damaged.

The vandals who mindlessly smashed our property can't dampen our spirit. We have a greater resolve to prevent these needless acts!!

Sincerely,
Richard Gorham

Dear Larz:

This past Friday, May 16, the Glen Road PAC met for what we thought was our last meeting of the school year. We had some very good programs started this year, the Monday after school program, the adult education and the T-Ball for grades K, one and two. We were all so happy that we had a terrific school year and that "school spirit" was alive and living at Glen Road School. That night our nightmare occurred. The vandals once again struck our school. This time it was 21 windows broken.

We had an emergency meeting of Glen Road PAC Monday morning and decided to meet with the selectmen and town manager. I would like to urge all Glen Road parents to come to the meeting, May 27 and let our elected officials know that "We are not taking this anymore." Please stand up and be counted, attend this important meeting.

A concerned parent

Dear Larz:

You must have had a reason. As a parent I would like to know why. Why would you vandalize the Glen Road School? Whom do you want to hurt? Certainly, not the little boys and girls who are perhaps your brothers and sisters? What have these children done to you that you feel compelled to destroy their school? It's their desks, books and classrooms that are covered with glass after one of your acts of vandalism.

Are you angry? At whom? Do you lack love or attention from your family or your peers? Do you have a "sick" mind? Do you need help? Think about it! Why do you destroy? Whose child are you, mine? my neighbors? We all want to help you if you'll tell us what your problem is.

Parents, do you know where your children are, who they are with and what they are doing?

A parent

Dear Larz:

This is an open letter from the children and families of the Glen Road School to the offenders who maliciously vandalized our school last Friday evening, May 16.

We feel sad for those very disturbed individuals who, through their destructive tantrums, managed to damage a school, raise our taxes even more, and bruise the high spirits of the Glen Road School children.

What kind of people are you??

Have you any conscience?? Do you really enjoy what you do?? Will it bother you if an innocent child is hurt by glass that was, perhaps missed during the clean-up of the destruction that you caused??

What if it were your child, or your brother-sister who was hurt?? Would it bother you then??

With sad feelings,
The Glen Road School
Children and Families

Dear Mr. Pierce:

I would like to take this opportunity to let you know what a superior group of students participated in the blood drive today.

From the students who worked with us to the students who donated - all were above average in their behavior. It was certainly a pleasure being assigned here today.

Sincerely,
Robert M. Carr, R.N.
Head Nurse
Blood Services

Dear Larz:

I am writing to you regarding the malicious damage done to the Glen Road School.

Last year our children suffered tremendously due to a fire at their school. Anyone who viewed the cramped and noisy accommodations our children had to endure can understand the feelings we, as parents, share.

Our children, literally, "lost" half a year of school. Haven't they suffered enough trying to pick up that "lost time?"

Do these destructive people enjoy "kicking around" children?

What action needs to be taken by "town officials" to prevent further damage to our schools? Better still, has any action been taken yet??? How much longer do we have to wait? How much more can our children stand?

Sincerely,
Glen Road School
Parents

Dear Larz:

Wilmington Pony League, as part of PUSH and the committee to improve out Playgrounds, would like to thank the following listed persons and those people who worked but whose names are not known, for their hard work and support in making the softball field at the Woburn Street School playable once again.

Anne and Jeff Linehan, Jim Gillis, Dick Scanlon, Ken Lydon (Pop Warner), Russell Lydon, Chris Lydon, Mark and Tom Kwiatkowski, Mavericks and Wildcats.

Sincerely,
Matt Kmon and Gerry O'Reilly

Dear Larz:

Something "special" happened over the weekend. Volunteers of P.U.S.H. (People United for Self Help) joined together Sunday afternoon at the Woburn Street School and revitalized a baseball field.

Six and a half hours of non-stop shoveling, digging, raking, gathering rocks, planting and camaraderie 20 or so people pooled their efforts and strength and restored a long defunct field.

The mainstay of this group was a group of young men under the guidance of Gerry O'Reilly. The dedication and love between Mr. O'Reilly and his teammates was something from those "Good old basic value days" - truly a Norman Rockwell classic of dedication, loyalty and love.

Hats off to Jimmy Gillis, our school athletic director, for his volunteer expertise in laying out the field and the hours of manual labor.

Jennie Lydon (fourth grader at the Woburn Street School) and Joey Linehan were there from beginning to end filling up wheel barrows one after another. All the Lydon kids, Chris and Russell and the young Kwiatkowski boys along with their mother didn't let up a minute.

The enthusiasm of the effort was pure joy and accomplishment. We are all discovering muscles we had forgotten we had, but it was an exhilarating feeling of a job well done. I'll galley crew for this bunch anytime! What a fantastic experience!

Anne Linehan

Birthdays

Dave Stowell of Nelson Avenue, Tewksbury will be old enough to vote on May 24.

According to the listing at hand, John Scozzaro of Columbia Street, Wilmington will be celebrating for the 19th time on May 25.

At Austin Prep, Romanowski is a member of the Chess Club, Honors Help Club, and the Blackfriars Dramatic Society. He is the founder of Austin's Dungeons and Dragons Society. ## You're fired

Despite a rainy afternoon, the Wilmington Minutemen's Liberty Pole ceremony and skirmish with the "British" took place at Rotary Park on Sunday afternoon. The "casualty" in the foreground was from the 2nd Vermont Artillery. The "Redcoats" firing in the background are the 64th and 84th Regiments of Foot.

Wilmington police news

Tragedy was narrowly averted at Silver Lake recently by Officer William Gable, David Livotte of 6 Wild Avenue and Cheryl Killam of Lakeview Avenue, Tewksbury.

Officer Gable responded to a call reporting an accident at Silver Lake and found a canoe had overturned, throwing its occupants into the water. Gable gave the cruiser life preserver to a bystander who assisted some youths still with the canoe and then applied artificial respiration to Candy Lou Carter, 20, of 6 Wild Avenue, Wilmington who had just been pulled into shore by Livotte and Miss Killam.

The fire department applied oxygen and took the near-drowning victim to the Regional Health Center for a check-up.

An overall increase in activity is indicated in the police blotter for the past week. Nineteen criminal arrests were made along with eight protective custody detentions. Eight accidents were investigated and 18 disturbance calls were recorded; 17 larcenies were reported with items taken including eight bicycles, mail boxes, motor vehicle parts, gasoline and, shrubs.

Malicious damage and vandalism reports numbered 17 with four break-ins of homes or motor vehicles. Two stolen cars were recovered, a number of bikes were also recovered. Residents reported 11 incidents of suspicious activity, and traffic complaints numbered eight. As usual a number of minibikes or trail bikes were cause for complaint. Officers were called to quiet five domestic relations problems and investigated several incidents of threats, trespassing, missing teens, shooting complaints and numerous other problems.

Tip of the week: As the school year winds down we usually experience an increase in damage to the schools and the surrounding property. Most of it is done by the teenage group and younger. Parents, please talk to your youngsters. Advise them that their games cost you money, add to the costs of the town, waste our resources, and cost the students and teachers valuable educational time.

Thomas Atkinson, of Prescott Street, was charged with operating under the influence of alcohol and being a minor in possession of alcohol; Brad Parsons of Deborah Drive, Cindy and Kary Strangberg of Haystack Road; James Keating of Curtis Street, James Lucy of Pineridge Road were all charged with being minors possessing alcohol.

Sgt. Palmer arrested Edward F. Hannon Jr. of 400 Andover Street Sunday morning and charged him with operating under the influence of alcohol and multiple other motor vehicle offenses.

After investigating an accident on Burlington Avenue, Sunday morning, Officer King arrested Russell Copeland of Glenside Avenue, Billeria and charged him with operating under the influence of alcohol and operating so as to endanger.

David and Thomas Runge of Aldrich Road and David Gennetti of Forest Street were arrested by Inspector Ballou Monday evening and charged them with possession of marijuana and possession with intent to sell. A 15-year-old companion was also arrested on the same charges.

Stolen cars recovered

Malicious damage

Friday evening around 10 o'clock officers discovered vandals had broken over 17 windows in the Glen Road School. Someone had apparently broken up one of the teeter boards and smashed the windows with the remains of the see-saw. Inspector Ballou and Officer Spencer are investigating.

Accidents

A two car collision at Woburn Street and Morse Avenue Monday morning involved Michael Knapp of Newman Street, Revere and Elaine Carroll of Woodside Avenue, Wilmington. The Knapp vehicle was trying to pass at the time the Carroll vehicle attempted a left turn from Woburn Street to Morse Avenue. Officer Morgan investigated the mishap.

Senior Citizen Day

Saturday May 24 will be seniors day to celebrate on the common. It will be "Senior Citizen Day" from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., a day to show the townspeople the elderly have many talents. All money earned in this endeavor will be the seniors' contribution toward the town's celebration of its 250th birthday. Many more seniors are needed to volunteer talents and time for this event.

Seniors are asked to set aside May 24 to take part in the celebration on the common and to take along family and friends. There will be ethnic foods, all kinds of pastries, crafts, plants, flea table, chances, dancing and music. McDonald's will help with the celebration.

Legion hosts seniors

On Sunday, May 18 the American Legion was the host to almost 100 seniors. A delicious turkey dinner was served with a very enjoyable afternoon for all.

Exercise class

Now that summer is approaching the weather will be getting more pleasant. This is the time to get out in the fresh air to tighten up those muscles. Liz Magee's exercise class at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Monday mornings from 11 to noon is an excellent way to accomplish this goal.

Trip to Plymouth

The Plymouth trip is filling up very rapidly. This is the last week to register. The number of participants has to be verified, before the end of this week.

Wilmington seniors' menu

Monday: Holiday, no lunch.

Tuesday: Chilled Fruit, Chicken Croquettes with Gravy, Mashed Potato, Buttered Green Beans, Pudding with Topping, Wheat Bread and Butter and Milk.

S.P.A.N.

All seniors who live alone or with spouse should sign up for S.P.A.N. (Senior Postal Alert Network) program. This is another program that will assist you, when and if you are in need of help. Drop in at the center and fill out a small form and get a sticker.

Memorial Day

The Drop-in Center will be closed on Memorial Day, May 16. The mini-bus will be in the parade driving seniors. Bob Cain has said that Cain's cars will be available also for seniors who wish to take part in the parade. Call the Drop-in Center before Friday for a ride.

Thermometers

Low-reading thermometers are available to all seniors for only 60 cents at the Drop-in Center. As oil prices rise and temperatures in homes drop, people are placing themselves in danger, especially if they are elderly. If body temperature drops below 95 degrees, hypothermia will result. The low-reading thermometer will warn of this danger. The off-season price is meant to be attractive, encouraging seniors to protect themselves. The price in stores during the heating season promises to be much higher.

Landry homer beats Wilmington, 11-10

Tewksbury Pitcher Annette Landry's two run homer in the bottom of the seventh inning gave Tewksbury an exciting 11-10 over Wilmington to highlight MVC girls softball action last week.

Landry hurled the win over Wilmington's Lisa Madden, while the Wildcat offense was led by Megan Donnelly with two hits, two RBI's, two runs scored, two stolen bases and a homerun. TMHS catcher Joanne Bolton enjoyed another fine game, going three for four.

A summary of MVC action last week:

Wilmington 10-Dracut 6
Janelle Fitch chalked up her fourth win of the season as her mates slapped out eight hits. Megan Donnelly had two hits and two RBI's; Marianne Campbell a hit and three runs scored; and Lori Belbin spanked a basehit and drove in three runs. Centerfielder Eileen Woods was superb defensively with seven put outs.

Methuen 8-Wilmington 3
Methuen ace Nancy Stoszak (11-0) was just too much for Wilmington, as she fired a three-hitter for the win over Lisa Madden. Lori Belbin had two of those three hits, and Megan Donnelly played well in the field.

Chelmsford 8-Tewksbury 2
Annette Landry took the loss as Chelmsford stifled the Tewksbury attack. Patty Peters drove in one of the TMHS runs with a sacrifice fly.

Tewksbury 12-Lawrence 9
Patty Peters fired the attack with three hits, while catcher Joanne Bolton coupled a great defensive game with good stick work, going three for five with a home run and a triple. Debbie Pollinger rounded out the TMHS attack with a pair of hits.

Wildcats stun Billerica, 3-2

In Merrimack Valley tennis action this past week, Wilmington's boys varsity stunned previously undefeated Billerica 3-2 on Billerica's home courts.

Up to this point in the season Billerica's powerful squad had won 12 straight matches and had figured to take Wilmington's young team on their slow asphalt courts that favor the Indians' control game.

The Wildcats were led to victory by young Bob Sweeney, who took Mike Loycano in three sets 3-6, 6-3, 6-3 in a pivotal match.

In other singles action, sophomore Bob Williams continued his mastery of the second spot by taking John Harlow in straight sets 7-6, 7-5. Wilmington's Bob Magliozzi fell to Ron Love 1-6, 6-7.

In doubles action, Vin Iocco and Dave Dunbar provided the first point of the day by winning a close match, 6-4, 1-6, 6-3. The second doubles team of Carroll Gillespie and Bob Perry were less successful, falling to Rick Bates and Bob Jones 2-6, 2-6.

In action later in the week, the Wildcats overwhelmed Lawrence 5-0. In this match the varsity lost just eight games.

On Friday, the Wildcats suffered a letdown after Monday's emotional win over Billerica, and were tipped by Chelmsford 3-2 in a see-saw battle at home.

Bright spots for Wilmington in the loss were the outstanding singles play of Bob Williams and Vin Iocco who defeated their opponents in two long, hard-fought battles marked with tie-breaker wins.

On the dark side, the Wildcats were unable to take a doubles point, as both teams dropped tie-breakers in the second set to fall by identical 3-6, 6-7 scores.

Redmen still in tourney hunt, 9-3

Steve Marsh fired a five-hitter, and his mates scored eight runs over the first three innings enroute to a 9-3 win over Dracut Monday that kept Tewksbury's shot at second place and a berth in the Eastern Mass Baseball Tournament alive.

In other MVC action Monday, Wilmington High School designated hitter Chris Nolan walloped two homers - a solo and a three run shot - to lead his team to a 6-4 upset of Chelmsford. The WHS victory snapped a seven game Chelmsford win streak.

Helping the Cats to the win was a stellar relief job turned in by Glen Sargent, who pitched four and two-thirds innings, taking over for starter

Steve Mosher.

Freshmen track

Another fine showing for Tewksbury

The Tewksbury boys track team placed fourth out of 15 teams at the Andover Invitational freshmen track meet Friday.

The winning team was McCarthy of Chelmsford with 68 points. Rounding out the top five were: Andover West (67), Andover East (46), Tewksbury (43), and Methuen (36). Also scoring was Marblehead (34), Greater Lowell Regional (30), Moses Parker of Chelmsford (11), Breed of Lynn (10), Higgins of Peabody (10), Methuen East (10), Kennedy of Peabody (5), Dracut (9), Pickering of Lynn (4) and Tenney of Methuen (0).

The meet's "Outstanding Athlete" was David Johnston of Marblehead, who won both the 100 yard dash and the long jump, setting a new record in the long jump.

Scoring for coach Dennis McGadden's Redmen were: Peter Bradley with second place in the shot put on a toss of 45' 11" - a personal best for Peter this year. Peter is the younger brother of Jude, Paul Duke and Dan Bradley - all past greats in the Tewksbury track and field.

In keeping with family contributions in track and field, Jim Indelicato took a second place in the high jump. - Jim is the younger brother of TMHS track star Mark, now a sophomore, and Guy Indelicato, a fine triple jumper several years ago.

Taking a third place was Scott Simas in the 220 with a time of 26.2. The 440 relay team of Charles Healey, Jim Filadaro, Glenn Maley and David Johnston took a third place with a time of 49.6.

Mike Buscanera took a fifth in the discus with a personal best toss of 95' 11", while Fluey grabbed sixth in the discus as did John Hodgson in the high jump. Paul Tremblay finished sixth in the mile and Steven Silk sixth in the 800. Steven Silk's brother, David, was an outstanding performer on the freshmen team last year.

Others performing well for Tewksbury were, Art Pierce, Frank Perdicaro, Bob Green, Tony Masone, Tom O'Brien, Tom Nawn, Ken Sinclair, Richard Rouse, David Smith, Troy McKay, Mark Richard, Gerry Giodarno and John Naughton.

"A strong effort would be needed in order to finish in the top five. Each boy gave his all at this meet and we did very well," offered McGadden. Tewksbury has won the title three times in the past, has been second three times, and has been in the top five spots for the past six years.

The remaining dual meet schedule for the boys freshmen team is: Chelmsford McCarthy (1980 Andover Invitational champions) at home Tuesday, May 20; at Andover East Thursday, May 22; at Dracut Friday May 30; Central Catholic June 2 at home; and Austin Prep June 4.

The 1980 Merrimack Valley Freshmen Track Conference League Meet is set for June 7, starting at 10 a.m. at the Tewksbury High School track.

The teams competing are: Andover East, Andover West (1979 dual meet champions), Austin Prep, Central Catholic, Dracut, Greater Lawrence Regional, Greater Lowell Regional, Methuen, Chelmsford's McCarthy and Parker, and Tewksbury, 1979 League champions.

Wildcats down Dracut

Several outstanding first place performances highlighted the Wilmington High School boys 80-65 win over Dracut in MVC track action last week. Matt Phillips continued to shine in the javelin with a 172' 8" heave, while the other WHS winners were Dan Burbine in the 120 high hurdles (16.0), Carl Borgeson in the mile (4:49.1), John Mucci in the 440 (54.0) and the 880 (2:20.2), Mike Cassidy in the two mile (10:48) and Peter Arvanitis in the high jump (6'0").

The Cats also placed well in the Northern Area Meet Saturday as Phillips won a championship with his personal best of 192' 5" toss in the javelin. Borgeson and Mucci also ran well for Wilmington.

Margaret Mooney became the first Wilmington High School girl to ever chalk up points in the Northern Area Meet with her third place in the 100 meter hurdles in a personal best 15.4 time.

Tewksbury trips Billerica

The Tewksbury ninth grade girls softball team won two games while losing one last week, bringing their record to 8-3. The girls started the week losing to undefeated Chelmsford Parker 14-9. The Redmen then squeaked out a 10-9 victory over Chelmsford McCarthy, before closing out the week defeating Billerica, 17-10.

Strong pitching performances were turned in by Robin Riddle and Kris Robinson. Robinson, pitching for the first time, hurled a complete game victory over Billerica.

Offensively, Leanne Stewart continued her torrid hitting, upping her average to .600. Two of Leanne's hits went for a long triple and her first home run of the year. Kerry Sullivan had three hits, driving in five runs. Chris Kiernan led the team with six hits and five stolen bases, while Marianne Bolton had five hits and drove in five runs. Laurie Bolton had five hits and drove in five runs. Laurie Daniels and Robin Riddle each had a four hit game against Chelmsford McCarthy.

The running attack once again was a vital weapon as the girls successfully have swiped 29 bases without being thrown out. Excellent base running was displayed by Debbie Goodine, Dianne Carroll, Kim Sanborn, and Chris Kiernan. Chris leads the team with 10 stolen bases. Liz Quinn did an excellent job coaching third base.

Defensively the team made many fine plays. Sue Rheaul, catching for the first time, threw out three Billerica baserunners, and Rosalie Triola made many superb plays at first base. Marianne Bolton sparkled at shortstop for Tewksbury.

Back to back doubles by Jackie Fader and Ed Walsh broke a 3-3 tie in the seventh inning and allowed Bob Tremlett to pick up the win over Billerica. Mark Walsh had two hits and Wally Maguire had a two RBI double in the win.

Wednesday, Terry Feran went the distance, scattering Chelmsford Parker's seven hits and striking out five. David Conley and Mark Burns made outstanding defensive plays in the 5-4 win. Bob Haggerty knocked in three runs and had a long triple and Wally Maguire had three hits to pace the Redmen.

In a non-league game Friday, four walks and a Maguire double allowed Conley to pick up the win with a five run sixth inning. Ed Walsh had two hits, while Tony Rubico and Maguire had two run doubles to pace the ninth graders. Jeff Vecchi also executed excellent suicide bunt.

Tewksbury girls win fourth straight

The Tewksbury girls' freshmen track and field team won its fourth meet in a row last week, before losing a pulsating 51-49 tussle to unbeaten Methuen. Earlier in the week, the tracksters had run away from Dracut, 72-38. The girls' team record now stands at 4-1 with meets scheduled this week against Chelmsford Moses Parker this past Monday at Tewksbury, and against Stoneham, also at Tewksbury, this coming Saturday morning at 10:00. On Thursday of this week, the girls travel to Billerica for a 3:15 p.m. meet. The Billerica meet will be held at the Marshall Middle School.

Tewksbury at Dracut
 Tricia Lavallee, one of the league's premier sprinters, led Tewksbury to a 72-38 victory. Lavallee won both the 100 and 220 yard dashes as Tewksbury outscored Dracut in the field events, 25-11-including a sweep of the top three places in the shot put (Eleanor Letteri, Patty Carey, and Sally Hourihan), and the long jump, with Sherri Defina, Beverly Luken and Michelle Muise all placing.

Pia Romano took second in the discus, as Carolyn Burns took an unexpected third in this event, and a well-earned second in the high jump. Tewksbury again turned on the afterburners in the running events, as they swept the half mile behind the respective efforts of Michelle Muise, Chrissy Silk, and Anne Dougherty, and won the hurdles, 440 and 220, with first and second place efforts.

Beverly Luken led teammate Sherri Defina across the line in the hurdles while Mary Ryan edged out Eleanor Letteri in the 440. Kim Daniels followed Lavallee in the 220. Kathy Weisensee lost her first mile run of the year, finishing second to a good Dracut miler. The mile relay team of Mary Ryan, Eleanor Letteri, Michelle Muise, and Chrissy Silk, remained undefeated, again romping to a lopsided victory.

Tewksbury at Methuen

The character of this year's girls track team was never more evident than when the Tewksbury girls headed for their bus about a quarter of a mile from the track they had just competed and lost on. "We're number one!" the girls were shouting - and they had just dropped a 51-49 decision to Methuen.

Most girls on the team improved their personal best goals, but no personal best was improved more than by eighth grader Kathy Weisensee, who improved her mile time by an incredible 14 seconds. Dizoglio of Methuen, was touted as the best miler in the conference. Weisensee took the lead right off the bat, and with Dizoglio right on her heels, led until the last lap, when the girls ran side-by-side, switching leads by a step several times. Two hundred yards from the finish, Weisensee started to pull away, finally winning by 15 yards. Her time of 5:48.8 broke the Tewksbury Junior High eighth grade record of 5:59.5 set in 1977 by Louise Smith.

Tewksbury won eight out of the 12 events in the meet, but was hurt most when Methuen swept the discus throw and the high jump. Missi Riddle and Patty Carey got the team on the right track when they both tossed the shot over 26 feet, taking first and second respectively. Beverly Luken won the long jump with an excellent 14'8 1/4" jump, while teammate Tricia Lavallee took a third.

With Tewksbury holding a 14-4 lead after these two events, they quickly fell behind 22-14 following the discus and high jump. The deficit increased to 30-15 when Tewksbury would be able to only place third behind the efforts of Beverly Luken in the hurdles.

Tewksbury then began its comeback that would just fall short. Michelle Muise and Chrissy Silk broke open a close half mile run as they ran first and second in excellent time. Tricia Lavallee then made it two meets in a row with a double win, as she won both the 100 and 220 yard dashes again. Unfortunately, Tewksbury couldn't pull out a second or a third in either of these races.

Mary Ryan continued her dominance in the 440, as she ran away from her Methuen counterpart and teammate Eleanor Letteri. Letteri was just nosed out for second in a controversial race that saw Letteri cut off at the start. Weisensee won her outstanding mile run, but again, no second or third place finish forced Tewksbury to win both relays to win the meet. Methuen's win in the 440 relay iced the meet, but Tewksbury mile relay team of Mary Ryan, Eleanor Letteri, Kathy Sullivan and Chrissy Silk added another romp to their undefeated streak, closing out the scoring.
